

Classical High School PSAT | SAT Preparation Initiative

Overview

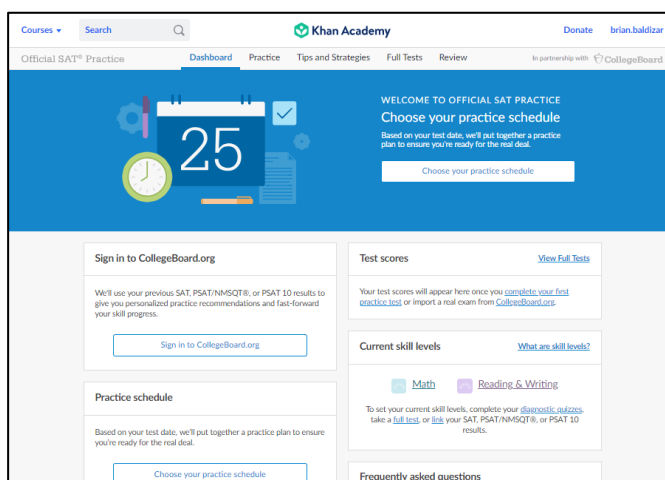

- Khan Academy has partnered with the College Board to offer FREE Math test preparation for the PSAT + SAT + etc. Whether you are in grade 9 or a current senior, there are plenty of options to support your success with the PSAT, SAT and Accuplacer. In fact, the research behind this initiative indicates that with as little as 6 hours of practice, you can see growth.
- We have allocated several (7) Tuesday Math Classes where you will begin/continue your practice.
- In addition, we are suggesting that all students participate independently for a minimum of 5 additional hours during both February and April break (10 hours total).
- You can use any device - your phone, a Chromebook, or computer

Getting Started or Continuing?

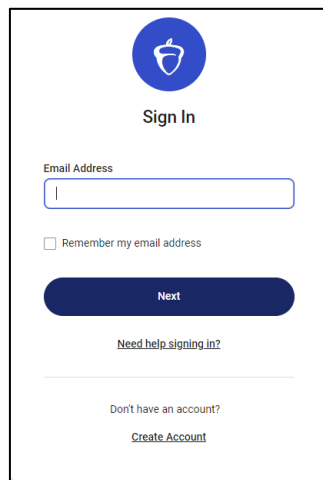

If you are brand new to SAT Preparation with Khan Academy

- Go to satpractice.org and Join as a Learner (create an account using your personal email - remember your password)
- Sign into your College Board account on the Dashboard. If you don't have one, create it now (you can use the same email you used for Khan Academy). If you forgot your password, follow the reset link.

If you have used Khan Academy before

- Log into satpractice.org and continue Practicing
- If you have not, connect your College Board Account and it will link your PSAT/SAT scores and build a practice plan based on those.

When have time, explore the site looking at the Tips and Strategies, Frequently Asked Questions and prepare to take a real PSAT or SAT Practice Test. Good Luck and Go Purple!
